Access and Learning Requirements

Inspyr welcomes applications from disabled delegates and we are happy to make adjustments where we can to ensure our training is inclusive. For delegates with learning difficulties or dyslexia, we can provide copies of training material in advance of training workshops. As our training continues after workshops as a correspondence course, we can amend coursework tasks to best suit individual or practice needs. Please inform us of any access requirements you might have, so we can ensure level access to the training venue and disabled facilities. We also offer bespoke and in-house training. If you would like further information or to discuss your requirements, please telephone on 01865 377797 or email training@inspyr.co.uk
